Nohl Peterson, Jumbo hall head resident, looks from a Jumbo second deck doorway at the new men's dorm. The 250-man dorm will be ready and waiting when the class of 1957 enters MSU next fall. Approximately 75 percent of the construction is now completed.

Students Hear Speakers; Groups Discuss Religion

Eight speakers are visiting the campus this week in connection with Religious Emphasis week, sponsored by the Student Religious council and the School of Religion. Each speaker is visiting various classes during the week and students are urged to attend the lectures at any free hours.

Seminars are being held every day at 3 and 4 p.m. in the Student Union for all those interested in group discussion.

The Rev. Msgr. James J. Donovan, Catholic, Great Falls, was president of the College of Great Falls in 1943, and professor of religion and sociology. He received his academic degrees at the University of America in Washington, D. C. He was auxiliary chaplain of the Great Falls Air Base and a member of the American Society of Hygiene, Community chest, and Community council.

Former Navy Chaplain

Paul B. McCleave, Presbyterian, Bozeman, who is listed in Who's Who was chaplain in the U. S. Navy for 40 months and spent 27 months in the Pacific. He was president of a liberal arts college and is especially interested in the arts and humanities. His academic

RE Seminars Arranged for Open Forum

The School of Religion has arranged several seminars for Religious Emphasis week, according to the Rev. Bruce Wood. There will be two seminars each of the four days with the purpose of getting discussions out on the floor and drawing conclusions from them.

Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Eloise Knowles room, Rabbi Albert Plotkin and Dr. Paul McCleave will lead group discussion on the reasons for morals. At 4 p.m. in the Bitterroot room, the Rev. Glenn Bragstad, Dr. Gertrude Crane, Herb Carson, Dr. C. R. Jeppesen, and the Rev. Mr. Wood will continue Monday's discussion of atheism.

Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the Eloise Knowles room, Father Fenlon, the Rev. Antisdale, Dr. Crane, and Msgr. James Donovan will discuss miracles. Fr. Thomas Fenlon and the Rev. Roger Blanchard will lead in the discussions of interfaith marriages at 4 p.m. in the Bitterroot room.

Thursday at 3 p.m. in the Eloise Knowles room, Father Fenlon, the Rev. Mr. Blanchard, and Rabbi Plotkin will discuss birth control. The Rev. Mr. Antisdale, Dr. McCleave, and Msgr. Donovan will evaluate the seminars in the Copper room at 4 p.m. degrees include BA, College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas; BD, Seminary, Omaha, Neb.; and LLD, Tulsa University. He is listed also in the Who's Who in Education.

Glenn W. Bragstad, Lutheran, St. Paul, has had a great deal of student contact and experience as a student advisor for the Lutheran Student foundation at the University of Minnesota and Macalester college. His fields of formal academic study include history, psychology, chemistry, seminary, and theology. He did his post graduate work in theology and philosophy.

Rev. W. J. Antisdale

The Rev. Wilber James Antisdale of the Fourth Presbyterian church in Spokane is a graduate of George Pepperdine college in Los Angeles with a B.A. degree. He attended the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, the graduate school of religion at the University of Southern California, and the graduate school of religion at George Pepperdine college. He has been pastor-counsellor for the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor union and has served as vice-president of the Cutter academy. He has also served as director of evangelical release time education, and on the committee of evangelism of Presbytery.

Earl A. Jacobs, a Christian scientist from Seattle, was appointed to the Committee on Publication for the Christian Science movement in Washington in 1945, and has been engaged in the public practice of Christian Science since 1944. He was educated in Indiana where he majored in business administration. In 1940, he was appointed a member of a committee of three to serve as state representative for the camp welfare activities of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Mass.

Dr. Gertrude Crane

Gertrude Boyd Crane, a Methodist from Pacific university, Forest Grove, Ore., is head of the Department of Religion and teacher of mental hygiene and philosophy at Pacific university. Dr. Crane was a professor of religion and philosophy at Intermountain college, dean of women and a teacher at the Montana Deaconess hospital, and director of psychology and nurses at Great Falls.

Blood Donors Provided Bus

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Elks temple tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. A special bus will come to the campus at 2 o'clock to pick up student blood donors.

The bus will come up Gerald and University avenues to Main hall. It will remain at Main hall until 2:10, then go back down the same route to the Elks temple.

Men between the ages of 18 and 21 need written consent from their parents to donate blood. Women do not need parental consent if they are over 18.

The Bloodmobile is not scheduled to appear on campus until spring quarter.

MSU Mu Phi Sorority Now National Group

Sixteen women became members of Mu Phi Epsilon, national professional music sorority, this week end. Pledging, initiation, and installation were completed Saturday.

Members took part in ceremonies and a model business meeting Sunday morning at the Delta Delta Delta house. They discussed projects for the sorority.

A formal recital by members of Mu Phi in the Student Union auditorium Sunday was followed by a reception for guests and members in the New Hall lounge. Mrs. DeLoss Smith, widow of the first dean of the MSU music school, poured. In the reception line were Dr. and Mrs. Richman, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Adele Ratcliffe, Mrs. Ruth Ayers, Miss Hasmig Gedickian, Stella Critelli, and Jane Valentine. Guests included members of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and people connected directly with the week-end activities.

Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, Seattle, national first vice-president and academic adviser, was installing officer. Others who also assisted with the ceremonies were Mrs. Ratcliffe, national chairman of ritual and member of the Seattle alumnae chapter; Mrs. Ayers of the Sampson Ayer Music company in Spokane; Miss Gwendolyn Harper, Miss Joyce Bippes, and Miss Lenore Howell of the Eastern Washington College of Education; and Mrs. Laurel Johnson of Butte.

Men's Dorm Construction Ahead of Schedule; Ready Materials Hasten Progress

BY BOB NEWLIN

The new 250-man dormitory will be completed "long before next fall" contrary to an estimate last spring that it would be finished in late 1953, according to Jack Dazell, Pew Construction company carpenter foreman.

Because they have had no trouble at all in getting the required materials at the right time, they've progressed tremendously since last spring, said Dazell. The building will receive finishing touches before school is out this spring if such progress continues.

Brick Work Completed

Approximately 75 per cent of the work is finished now. The brick work on the outside of the building was completed last week. Room partitions throughout the entire building and window trim on the ground floor have reached final stages. Plasterers now working have accomplished about 25 per cent of their work and glazed tile is already being laid in the lavatories and showers.

Additional Wings Possible

The present building is designed for addition of a center wing perpendicular to it and a west wing parallel to it, forming the letter I. If these wings are found necessary and finished in the future, the total housing capacity of the dorm will be 650.

Each room in the new dorm will be provided with a wardrobe, bed, and drapes. There will be two lavatories and two phone booths on each floor. The first floor will have two well-equipped laundry rooms.

Steam Heat Planned

Steam heat will be provided by the University's central heating plant, and each room will be heated from the base.

A crew of 30 men representing different crafts is working on the $750,000 project which was begun shortly after the ground-breaking ceremonies, March 17, 1952.

The four-story building will replace Jumbo hall, which was brought to this campus from Kaiser shipyards at Vancouver, Wash., in 1946. It was erected temporarily to house the many veterans of World War II.

Noon Meetings Set for Faculty During RE Week

The faculty committee has planned a series of noon luncheon meetings this week in order to provide wider faculty participation in Religious Emphasis Week activities. Gordon W. Browder, chairman of the Religious Emphasis Week committee, has announced the luncheon schedule.

Tuesday Monsignor James J. Donovan will speak on "Natural Law" in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union. Rev. Roger W. Blanchard will discuss "Concern of the Churches for Working with Faculties" in the Bitterroot room Wednesday.

Thursday Rabbi Albert Plotkin will discuss "Modern Jewish Philosophers" in the Bitterroot room. A general discussion will follow each talk.

Faculty members are asked to pick up their own lunch in the cafeteria to simplify service and avoid the necessity of collecting for the meal.

Journalism majors will vote Wednesday, Nov. 19 and Thursday, Nov. 20 at the journalism school for Press club officers.

Persons so far nominated are Ray Moholt, Glendive, for president; Muriel Griffin, Missoula, and Lynn Jelinek, Miles City, for vice president; Barbara Mellott, Hamilton, for secretary-treasurer; and Kim Forman, Miles City, for publicity director.

Other nominations may be made by Press club members by giving the nominees name and presenting a Press club card to Ellie Fisher in the press room office in the journalism school between 4 and 6 p.m. Since Press club is meant for those not already in journalism organizations, persons in the journalism honoraries should not be nominated.

Journalism majors who do not have Press club cards may get them from Miss Fisher.

Efficiency Plaque Won by AKPs at Seattle Convention

Six members of Alpha Kappa Psi, men's business fraternity, attended the district convention at the University of Washington in Seattle last week end.

Charles Davis, Glendive, president of the Montana chapter, received a plaque for the district efficiency contest, which the chapter won last year. This is the fifth year out of the last seven that Montana has won the award.

Those who attended the meeting are Davis; Don Cameron, Miles City; Eldon Chelgren, Richby; Anton Hollinger, Missoula; Alvin Anderson, Harlowton; and Lewis Penwell, Billings.

Four chapters of AKP were present at the meeting. They were from Washington State college, Portland university, the University of Washington, and MSU.

A delegate from each chapter gave a speech, and student-faculty and student-business men relationships were discussed. Thomas Polley, congressman elect from Washington, spoke on "Promoting Free Enterprise in Business."

Fred Harley was chairman of the meeting, and Wayne Snyder was elected the new district councilor. They are faculty members of the business school at the University of Washington.

Mr. Davis issued a challenge to the other AKP president of a steak dinner for the winning of next year's efficiency plaque.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS BY DICK BIBLER

Ye Olde Parables Of Wise Haffinch

One day was Haffinch taking his rest in his garden when there came unto him an young man of sad countenance whose lip Moreover was as long as an Humanities Exam. And this did Haffinch perceive, and he bade the young man to State his Case.

And thus did the young man speak unto Haffinch. I have, Oh Wise One, a night class at the Libe, which conveneth at half past the hour of eight. And this in itself is enough, for this is an fine hour hour for Kissing and Giggling. But the class lasteth unto an Wine Drunk, and the professor stoppeth not, but Bloweth his Top far into the night.

And still I complain not about these matters. But the room is a Hot Baby, and my tongue parcheth, and my throat drieth up, and verily would I give my Right Eye for an drink of water. And I think on these things, and I may hear the gentle gurgling of the fountain outside the room hard by the staircase, and I groan and fidget as a man possessed of demons.

And finally does the class let out, and I make haste to get unto the fountain. And I bend over and try to get a drink. But the water sloweth down, and barely runneth, and I cannot slake my thirst, nor can I get my fill. But I have just enough to want more. And then does the Libe close, and Fair Damsels troupe down the stairs, and I am ashamed that I have been there so long, and I walk away.

Then doth the fountain spring forth and everyone gets a drink. Then do I sneak back and bend over recklessly, and get my tie wet, and by the time I have my tie tucked in, Lo, the fountain hath slowed down and I am Holding the Sack. Now do I consider wrapping my whole Mib around the Fountain and sucking mightily. But shame overtaketh me, and I know that there will be Slurping noises, and I will look like a Proper Creep. And I ask you, what's to be done.

And Haffinch gave him his blessing, and said, This is thy reward for having such an odd taste. Do thou stick to good brew and shun fountains as implements of Beelzebub, even as I.

Collegiate . . . CHIT-CHAT

The American Association of University Professors recently published this bit of proser in their "Bulletin":

POOR PROFESSOR

"If he's brand new at teaching, he lacks experience. If he's been teaching all his life, he's in a rut.

If he dresses decently, he's trying to be a fashion plate.

If he thinks about something besides clothes, he's a bum.

If he seldom admits a mistake, he's arrogant.

If he ever admits a mistake, he ought to go back to bricklaying.

If he plants an occasional joke in his lectures, he's a comedian.

If he never condescends to an academic nifty, he's duty-dull.

If he goes to chapel with regularity, he's a hypocrite.

If he shies at sermons, he's a heathen.

If he writes books, he's neglecting his teaching.

If he never publishes, he never had a thought worth printing.

If he hands out plenty of high grades, he has no standards.

If he hands out plenty of low grades, he's a butcher.

If he uses notes, he's unoriginal.

If he gets along without notes, he's an ad-libber.

If he's on good terms with the president, he's a cypophant. (and, we might add—if he isn't, he's crazy.)—Student Life, Utah State College.

Evening Sentinel Pictures Slated

Students who have been working or are busy during the day may have their Sentinel pictures taken Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the Makeup room from 7 to 9:30, according to Helen Lenhart, Sentinel editor.

Junior class pictures will be pictures are scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Women are to wear white blouses to have their pictures taken. Men are to wear suits and ties. Pictures will be taken from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

How Many Read the Kaimin? Read This Story and Find Out!

When you looked at the "big story" in today's Kaimin, did you stop to think of how many other people saw those same headlines? The chances are you didn't, because newspapers are geared for individuals. But if you wondered, here's the answer — 2,796 people had the opportunity to see that headline.

This circulation figure includes all MSU students, faculty, clerical help, maintenance men, administrative officials, and subscriptions.

Number of Students

Every MSU student who purchases an activity card is entitled to a Kaimin. They can be found four mornings a week in strategic locations on campus. There are 2,139 students now registered.

The faculty, maintenance men, administrative officials and clerical help also can pick up a Kaimin on their way to work. That collective group totals 418.

The Kaimin sends editions to 174 businessmen and newspapers.

Barristers Honor First-Year Men

Five first-year law students were honored at a luncheon of Phi Alpha Delta, law fraternity, Monday. The luncheon was given in the Student Union Bitterroot room.

Harry Mehr, Glendive; Alvin Slaight, Long Beach, Calif.; William Hunt, Missoula; Francis Powers, Billings; and Richard Roberts, Missoula; were the honored students.

The featured speaker at the luncheon was Homer H. Clark, assistant professor of law. His talk was based on the theme of recent changes at the Harvard Law school.

Entertainment was provided by the Jubileers, directed by Lloyd Oakland. Gib Leibinger, Miles City, accompanied the group.

SPUR REPORTS DUE TODAY

Spurs are to bring all unsold tickets, money, and bills pertaining to Sadie Hawkins dance to Tuesday's meeting. A financial report of the dance cannot be made until these items are recorded with the treasurer.

Nearly every newspaper in Montana receives an issue. The executives include Senator-elect Mike Mansfield, and former MSU president James McCain.

Former Students

Former MSU students who subscribe to read about old friends total 65. These range from former ASMSU officers Juanita Kugler, Detroit, and Louetta Riggs, Chicago, to ex-Kaimin editor Dick Wohlgenant, San Antonio, and former Student Union business office representative Bill Donally, Washington, D. C.

Grizzlies Suffer Defeat, Injuries; From San Jose Grid Offense

BY BOB GILLULY

Grizzly Coach Ed Chinske, minus line coach John Zeger, sent his men through a light drill yesterday in preparation for the final Silvertip game of the season against New Mexico at Albuquerque next Saturday. Zeger underwent an emergency appendicitis operation at San Jose last Thursday and didn't return home with the Grizzlies after their 39-20 loss to San Jose State Friday.

"It was their game the first half and ours the second," said Chinske about the San Jose game. With all-conference Lynn Aplanalp spearheading the attack, San Jose ran up a 39-0 score at halftime against the Grizzlies.

Montana came roaring back in the second half to score 20 points and make an impressive showing against the top offensive team in the nation. Bob Dantic and Dean Brott spearheaded the Grizzly attack, Dantic scoring the first touchdown and Brott the next two. Don Gerlinger converted twice.

Chinske commented on the improvement of the Silvertip passing attack. Dick Heath played most of the second half and was hitting his receivers quite consistently, while Murdo Campbell also completed several aeriels.

Montana didn't come out of the fray completely free from injuries. Gene Carlson, one of Chinske's best defensive backs, won't be able to play against New Mexico. He has a possible hernia. Joe DeLuca re-aggravated a shoulder injury and Don Little suffered a sprained ankle. Chinske said that Dick Lindsay, linebacker and defensive halfback, may possibly be ready for the game, having partially recovered from an injury from the Idaho game.

Chinske was surprised to hear about the New Mexico-Colorado A and M score of last week end. The Lobos beat the Rams 3-0 in a strictly defensive battle. Since A and M beat Montana 41-0 earlier in the season, this indicates that Chinske's men will have a rough time against the Lobos.

New Hall, DDDs Advance in WAA VB Tournament

New hall and the Tri Deltts practically repeated their last year's performances in volleyball yesterday. New hall, last year's champions, advanced into the finals with a win over the Kappas, the team they defeated for the trophy, and the Tri-Deltts topped Kappa Alpha Theta, 42-19, to qualify for the consolation finals.

New hall continued undefeated, stopping the Kappas, 29-17. New's serving was a big factor in the win, and they were never behind after their first player served. This was one of the most evenly matched games of the year, but Kappa couldn't match the over-all strength of the New hall team.

Tri-Delt eliminated the Thetas from the tournament in their consolation round match. Tri-Delt took the lead as their first server, Jane Baier, collected 6 points, and were never behind. The Tri-Deltts substituted often, and seven players added points. Tink Hetler scored 7 points for Theta, and Jane Baier led Tri-Delt with 15.

North hall No. 1 and the Independents meet today at 5 in a semi-final volleyball match. The winner will play New hall for the championship, and the loser will meet Kappa Kappa Gamma for third and fourth. Alpha Phi opposes Delta Gamma at 4:15 in a consolation round game.

Lobos Beat Colorado A & M; Now Second in Skyline

New Mexico had to call on their kicking specialist Mike Prokopiak to kick a field goal to defeat Colorado A & M 3-0 last Saturday. The field goal was made in the second period as Colorado muffed a chance to score when one of Don Burroughs' passes was intercepted after the Rams had driven deep into New Mexico territory. The field goal was kicked from a slight angle 30 yards out.

It was Colorado's second loss in a row after a four-game winning streak. Fumbles, pass interceptions, and penalties plagued Colorado all afternoon. The win put New Mexico in second place in the Skyline race and kept alive their hopes of winning the championship.

A field goal also won for Utah university. Chuck Kalani booted a 17-yard field goal to break a 13-13 deadlock with Santa Clara with only 3½ minutes left in the game. The passing of Don Rydall set up the field goal attempt as he completed a 33-yard pass to half-back Frank Branham.

In a hard fought Skyline game at Logan, Utah, the BYU Cougars went down before the Utah State Farmers 27-26.

"They must have a terrific defense," said Chinske. Only 14 points have been scored against New Mexico in conference play this year. New Mexico obviously doesn't have too much of an offensive team, though. They're content to let their defense stop the opposition.

A big factor in the Lobo offense has been their placekicker, Mike Prokopiak, who has booted five field goals this season. His three-pointer beat Colorado A and M last week end. Since both teams are noted for their defensive teams, the Montana-New Mexico tilt could hinge on the booting of Prokopiak and Montana's "toe," Don Gerlinger.

Gerlinger kicked an all-important goal against Denver several weeks ago and two other tries this season have narrowly missed.

Three Teams Tied for First In Bowling

The Law school and Phi Sigma Kappa bowling teams each won three games Saturday afternoon to climb into a first-place tie with the Phi Deltts in the intramural bowling league.

The Law school defeated the SPes and the Phi Sigs beat the Theta Chis. Meanwhile, the SAEs were defeating the Phi Deltts twice and the Sigma Nus were winning two games from the Sigma Chis.

In team and individual performances, it was the Law school and the SAEs who were the stellar performers. The Law school had the highest team series with 2,418, while the SAEs were second with a score of 2,382. In the high team game it was just a reversal as the SAEs bowled an 847 game to top the Law school's score of 814.

The SAEs' Pete Densmore and the Sigma Nus' Bill Morrison tied for the high individual series with 524 scores, while the Law school's Jim Riley was third high with a score of 522. The battle for the high individual game was close also, with Dale Schneidmiller of the SAEs edging out his teammate, Pete Densmore, for the top honor. Schneidmiller bowled a 198 and Densmore a 197.

The battle for positions below the leaders individual games was also close, with the Sigma Chis' Ed Overturf bowling a 190, Bill Morrison a 189, and Ron Faust of the SAEs and Don Cole of the Law school a 188.

Marine Officer Will Talk With Students

Students interested in the Marine Corps reserve officers training program will have the opportunity to talk with a Marine officer next week, according to Dean of Men Herbert J. Wunderlich.

Capt. D. V. McCloskey of the Marine Corps procurement office will be in room 104, Main hall, next Wednesday and Thursday to counsel with students.

The program offered by the Marine Corps provides deferments until graduation. Included in the Marine ROTC program are two six-week summer sessions, complete academic freedom during the school year, and a second lieutenant's commission upon college graduation.

Sig Eps Entertain Candidates For 'Queen of Hearts'

An MSU coed will be chosen Queen of Hearts Saturday night at the Sigma Phi Epsilon ball in the Florence hotel. She will be awarded a $50 scholarship and a cup will go to her living group. Last year's queen was Marjorie Rutherford, Theta from Butte.

The queen candidates were honored at a Sig Ep fireside last Saturday. Those attending and the group they represent are Jean Bachman, Missoula, Delta Gamma; Marie Richardson, Missoula, Delta Delta Delta; Sharon Dahling, Butte, Sigma Kappa; Sally Smith, Great Falls, Alpha Phi; Arlene Hoiland, Big Timber, Kappa Alpha Theta; Barbara Berg, Helena, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Joan Rowley, Bynum, Synadelphic; Kay Wohlgenant, Miles City, North hall; and Ramona Marquardt, Wolf Point, New hall.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
